

Mohsin Naqvi, MA, Ph.D

Biosketch

Dr. Mohsin Naqvi was born in Karachi and obtained his early education, both religious and conventional, in Multan. He graduated from the University of Karachi with a Masters in Islamic Studies in 1978. He continued his religious education in seminaries in Pakistan and then went to Najaf to obtain higher religious education. In 1990 Dr. Naqvi went to England and served as research supervisor at Zahra Publications International. He obtained his doctorate in Biblical Studies in the year 1995 from North Carolina State University with special reference to Synoptic Gospel and its historical criticism.

Dr. Mohsin Naqvi has published more than 28 articles and books. Currently he is serving as Member of the Council of Islamic Ideology Pakistan, and as Member of the National Curriculum Board Govt of Pakistan. He is Chief Consultant in Islamiyat in the Aga Khan Examination Board and also Advisor, Islamic Education Board (Khuja Ithna Ashari) in London.